

GRAND ROUND

2020 INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE NURSE AND THE MIDWIFE

Emma Hickson – Chief Nursing Officer
Carolyn Coles – Director of Midwifery (or delegate)

Fern Crowe – Charge Nurse Manager
Saleifi (Luey) Reriti – Nurse Coordinator

Background

- 2020 designated the year of the nurse and midwife by the WHO
- 200 years since the birth of Florence Nightingale
- Publication of the first WHO State of the World's nursing report on 7th April 2020
- Nurses and midwives are key to the achievement of WHO's goal of universal health coverage
- The WHO estimates there will be a worldwide shortfall of 9 million nurses and midwives by 2030 unless radical action is taken now

ng now

Nursing Now's patron
Her Royal Highness The
Duchess of Cambridge

- A global campaign in collaboration with WHO and ICN
- The 3 year campaign will run until the end of 2020
- Aims to improve health globally by raising the profile and status of nursing and midwifery

The Nursing Now campaign focuses on 5 core areas:

1. Ensuring that nurses and midwives have a more prominent voice in health policy-making;
2. Encouraging greater investment in the nursing workforce;
3. Advocating for more nurses in leadership positions;
4. Encouraging research that helps determine where nurses can have the greatest impact, and
5. Sharing examples best nursing practice.

Women make up 70% of the total health and social care workforce, yet women only comprise 25% of health system leadership roles

The Nightingale Challenge

- Asks every health employer around the world to provide leadership and development training for a group of nurses and midwives during 2020 YOTNM
- Aims to:
 - help develop the next generation of nurses and midwives as leaders, practitioners and advocates in health.
 - demonstrate that nursing and midwifery are exciting and rewarding careers

It is an integral part of Nursing Now's aim to improve health globally by raising the profile and status of nurses

Nightingale Challenge at CCDHB

All nurses and midwives are leaders in their practice.

Overall we have a total of 2265 nurses and 131 midwives working for CCDHB.

DHB Wide focus and working with the Hutt Valley DHB

Two cohorts EOI for leadership and development opportunity:

- First group is Maori and Pacific (Nurse & Midwifery)
- Applications closed 29 responses

- Second EOI yet to be advertised for later this year

Year of the Nurse and Midwife 2020 Intranet

Throughout 2020, we're celebrating our nurses and midwives. Find out what's planned for the year

Profiling - Internal and local (CCDHB) nurses and midwifery focus

Another CCDHB region profiling for another

Profiling themes:

- International Humanitarian - working war zones and aid
- Ellen Dougherty – award recipients
- Research Leaders
- Nurse Practitioners
- Young leadership
- Education
- Maori and Pacific Leadership
- MHAIDs – Mental Health

Toe Fiu: MHAIDS nurse supports Samoa

Year of the Nurse and Midwife 2020 Intranet

Lets explore:

- Nursing and Midwifery
- What's happening
 - Related links
- Nightingale Challenge
- Photo Gallery

Staff Profile

Kath Boyle, Ann Ofsofke and Fiona Jones
Clinical midwife educators
Midwifery

"The best part of our job is supporting new staff members and especially graduate midwives. They start the programme wide-eyed, excited yet often apprehensive, and it's so rewarding seeing them progress from competent to confident."

Read more

Year of the nurse

end
th Facility
Health Centre
Main Hospital
Rural District Hospital
Road
ami Evacuation
Red Zone
Orange Zone
Yellow Zone
StreetMap

Midwifery Focus

2020
INTERNATIONAL YEAR
OF THE NURSE AND
THE MIDWIFE

Throughout the year 2020 midwifery will use this opportunity to celebrate, recognise and acknowledge midwives and the midwifery profession across CCDHB and in the community.

Celebrations and activities:

- Profiling the different midwifery roles/specialty roles within the profession
- Showcase the new graduate midwife programme & New graduate midwives
- Celebrating the Bachelor of Midwifery programme VUW
- Raising the profile activities – quizzes and midwifery facts

celebrations and activities will be showcased through social media platform CCDHB Facebook, intranet and health matters

3 MHAID – Mental Health

MHAIDs welcomes this year with a monthly focus on celebrating and highlighting the different roles within MHAIDs and the Nursing skills that are specific to MHAIDs

Profiling:

Nurses from different services within MHAIDs

1. What is unique about the nursing role
2. Who the services are for
3. How nurses use different assessments and interventions in their role

Showcase a nursing skill specific to MHAIDs

- Profiles will be showcased monthly in various areas across all of MHAIDs
- Content will also be included in regular Newsletters, Health Matters and also on the Intranet

“This year is for all of us”

2020

INTERNATIONAL YEAR
OF THE NURSE AND
THE MIDWIFE

Saleifi Reriti (Luey)

Nurse Coordinator Professional Development

Saleifi.Reriti@ccdhb.org.nz